97Percent offers a 4-day training course designed for Public Safety Professionals and Investigators to effectively utilize Florida's Risk Protection Orders (RPOs). Our research shows that a majority of gun owners support Extreme Risk Laws as an evidence-based tool to prevent gun violence. This training maximizes the effectiveness of RPOs while respecting constitutional rights.

This course focuses on integrating Behavioral Threat Assessment and Management (BTAM) fundamentals to assess and mitigate gun violence threats, using RPOs as part of a comprehensive strategy.

Course Objectives:

- Utilize the BTAM Model to identify opportunities for RPO application.
- Understand Florida's RPO statute, including robust due process protections.
- Explore how BTAM and RPOs mitigate violence through real case studies and scenarios.
- Develop alternative strategies for situations where RPOs may not be appropriate.
- Build proficiency in the entire RPO process, from investigation to case management.
- Create individualized plans for community and interdisciplinary cooperation
